THAT "WILD DUCK", pictured in last week's paper, that was a visitor to the Herb Bykowski residence at 310 Hamilton Ave. all one Saturday before taking off for parts unknown, maybe was NOT so wild after all.

It might have been "MAC", a tame bird.

At least that is the report from Mrs. Edward Vass, 819 Kenneth Ave. She said she recognized their family pet from the picture that was run in The Press.

The Vass duck, who answers to the name of "Mac", had been a fixture of the Vass household for almost a year and had its own private pond in the backyard. "Mac" disappeared the same day that the Bykowski family had their feathered visitor.

Anyway the Vass' would like to have "Mac" come back.

And "Mac", if he is a wise old bird like we think he is, should high-tail it for his own private "bird sanctuary", that pool in the Vass backyard, expecially during the holiday season...

There are some people, you know, who just might prefer duck to turkey for the Thanksgiving repast.

So, if you happen to run across a duck that answers quack to "Mac", send him home.

UNSIGHTLY VACANT LOTS was the subject for a paragraph or two in this column a few weeks ago.

Since that time we have received a number of phone calls and letters from people who are concerned either esthetically or actually, about the problem.

As you might recall, this column had no answer to the rather sticky situation.

The property owner, it was pointed out, often has no litter control over the lot. That is, without putting on a 24-hour guard...

And the guy next door shouldn't be forced to do the cleaning up.

And there is a limit on how far the city can go in spending taxpayer's money to clear-up the eye-sores made mainly by human litterbugs.

One letter-on-litter to us did mention, however, that apparently the notation in this column did some good in one instance.

A lot that had been used as sort of a rubbish collecting point by neighbors in the area had apparently been cleaned up by the same neighbors.

On the other hand, one writer in an unsigned note, bitterly but unfairly accused "city hall" as the cause of the problem.

The anonymous writer said in part in the note:

"Them guys in city hall are the ones that caused it when they took the poor peoples homes and put them in the streets with out no place to go"...

And there was a lot more of the same drivel in the note based on a false premise.

It is no wonder that the writer wouldn't sign it.

Another writer apparently felt we had been too negative in the column. She suggested:

Planners deny

"Slide" misses

By an unanimous vote the Planning Commission on Monday night denied the request for a use permit that would allow a 36-foot high outdoor recreational slide in the Kirkwood Plaza Shopping Center area at San Tomas Aquino Road and Campbell Ave.

The application for the novel metal "big slide" of open scaffolding construction of approximately 142 feet in length had been submitted by Profit Motivated Associates, represented at the meeting by LaVerne F. Foster, a general partner in the firm.

A similar facility has just been opened at Capitol Expressway and Monterey Road in San Jose.

Leading the opposition to the "big slide" were members of the Bucknall School PTA, and a group of residents on Lemoyne Ave., within the city limits of San Jose but adjacent to the proposed location.

In a letter of protest to the commission, Warren B. Whitmore, president of the Buck-

HAPPY GROUP-- In the most successful membership drive in the history of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, 66 new members were "signed" in the one-day blitz on Nov. 15. An ambitious goal of 60 had been set for the drive.

Additional "stragglers" that were reported on the following day sent the new membership total above the 70 mark.

Pictured above are three of the top players for the day standing before the "scoreboard" that tells the story.

Left to right, Neal Royer (third high "scorer"), Jack Reilly and Al LaPlante who divided honors in the game for obtaining most members.

Membership drive tops goal, breaks all records

Two teams ("Raiders" and 49ers") composed of 12 C of C members each, with Connie Russo and Arland Hatfield as their respective captains, staged an even battle during the one-day membership drive Nov. 15.

The "49ers" picked up 33 new members and the "Raiders" 32. (One new member, the newly-opened "Ken's Pancake House", on W. Hamilton, was classified as a joint effort.

Individual game honors went to Jack Reilly, "Raiders", for total money collected and to Al LaPlante, "49ers", for number of members. (9)

Reilly was second in members (8) and LaPlante, second in money Neal Royer, "Raiders", with seven new members, gained third place honors in both categories.

LaPlante was actually "player-coach" in the successful drive. He directed the operations as well as gaining honors as top salesman for the day.

Members of the winning team the "49ers," and their wives will be guests on an expense-free junket to Reno on Dec. 1. Others going on the flight to Reno (leaving Friday at 7 p.m. and returning Sat. a.m.) will be charged $10 per person.

Len Edholm, C of C manger, who is directing the Reno hop, reports that the plane will accomodate 71 persons and will be on a first-come, first-served basis based on reservations received.

He asks that those wishing to go should contact the C of C office (378-6252) immediately

City to set bond projects time schedule

How much money and what projects that are to be included in first city bond sale, tentatively set for next March, may be decided at the City Council meeting next Monday, Nov. 27.

The expected action by the City Council will be the first step in accomplishing the capital improvement programs approved by the passage of the $2,600,000 bond issue on Oct. 24.

City Manager Bob Stephens has suggested that either $685,000 or $860.000 in bonds be offered in the first sale, depending on the bond market at the time.

In his suggested breakdown for projects, based on the lesser figure, Stephens lists $300,000 be allocated for fire station No. 2 and land acquisition for

CHAMPION Campbell High meets Los Gatos

Grid games feature Thanksgiving

Campbell High, champions of the West Valley League for 1967, will put its undefeated season (the first in seven years) on the block at Los Gatos on Thanksgiving Day in the traditional annual battle that dates back to 1934.

But, in addition, five other high schools in the Campbell Union High School District, as well as Saratoga, now have their own Turkey Day classics which are also fast developing into "traditionals".

Kickoff time for all the grid battles is 11 a.m.

In the second "oldest" battle Camden meets Del Mar at Del Mar. Westmont entertains Leigh and Blackford meets Saratoga at Blackford.

Although no title is at stake in the game between the Los Gatos Wildcats and the Campbell Bucs, the usual tough battle is expected in keeping with the tradition that is now in its 34th consecutive year.

In the years that the game has been played, Los Gatos holds the edge with 18 wins to Campbell's 14 with one tie (0-0 in 1943).

Campbell with 8-0 compared to the 3-5 record of Los Gatos for this year, is highly favored to win Thursday's game. Campbell won last year 25-0 and the year before 32-14.

But prior to that Los Gatos had racked four straight wins.

Campbell clinched the league championship last Friday in a convincing manner by defeating Blackford 27-7. So, no matter what the outcome is of the LG-Campbell fray, the Bucs will wear the league crown.

All other teams in the league have lost at least two games.

But the Turkey Day classics played on the other fields could have considerable bearing on the "runner-up" standings for the West Valley Athletic League.

Del Mar, for example turned back Saratoga last Friday night 20-19 and has a 6-2 record to date, the same as Blackford boasts. Del Mar eked out the victory last Friday with only three minutes left and actually won it on DAT kick off by Gerry Bush.

Camden, Del Mar's opponent on Thursday, has a 3-5 season record. But, as in other "big games", records go out the window on Thanksgiving.

Saratoga, Blackford's rival on Thanksgiving, has a 5-3 mark for the

REV. CHARLES SHELTON

Traditionally The Campbell Press calls upon a local clergyman to present a Thanksgiving Message.

This year's message is by the Rev. Charles A. Shelton, minister of the Church of Christ at 1075 W. Campbell Ave.

The Rev. Shelton has served the Church of Christ of Campbell for seven years. During this time the church has doubled in size in addition to establishing a congregation in Cupertino. In 1965 the church moved into new facilities on W. Campbell Ave.

Rev. Shelton is a native of Memphis, Tennessee. He received the B.S. degree from Memphis State University and is currently writing a Master's Thesis which will be a sociological profile of Campbell.

He serves on the editoral staff of Power for Today and writes for other Christian journals.

Rev. Shelton recently returned from a two month tour of the Orient where he conducted evangelistic meetings in Seoul, Korea; Omika, Japan; and Hong Kong. Viet Nam, Thailand and the Philippine Islands.

He is married and has three sons.

Thanksgiving, 1967

Having recently returned from a 24,000 mile excursion which took me into six Asian countries, I have a refocused sense of gratitude on this Thanksgiving, 1967.

With all of its ills, I am grateful for America. (How do you say it without sounding corny?) Not even the most progressive of Asian nations offers to its citizens the assurance of democratic processes which we take for granted. One might be thankful even for the "credibility gap".

In many areas the press cannot, dare not, ever attempt to ferret out the truth by which to measure official pronouncements. The right to dissent, to picket, to protest is a cherished privilege which is guaranteed to few other peoples. Those who have nothing but criticism for America, who see nothing but hypocrisy who question all the motives of foreign and domestic policy testify only to their naivete and shallowness of perspective.

Virtually every Asian I met wanted to come to America. To them our country is the epitome of all that is desirable in a nation. It is the place where courts are honest, where the little man gets a fair shake, where officials must give account for their actions and their stewardship, where there is less discrimination on the basis of race and ethnic origin than any other place in the world. It seems tragic to me that, at a time when our country is admired, respected and imitated more than any other nation, so many who enjoy her blessings seem bent on undermining and destroying her.

I say, Thank you, God, for America.

She is not only the land of the free but the home of the brave. I stood in Ton San Nhut airbase in Saigon as a shipment of green plastic bags was being loaded into an airforce plane for shipment to cemeteries across the country.

"Killed in Action" doesn't make death more palatable but the action of those brave sons of American may stanch the flow of tyranny and totalitarianism into Southeast Asia. I hate war, but slavery is a greater evil. The war seems necessary to prevent the enslavement of a whole block of nations. I hate the use of napalm, but even more do I hate the terrorist murders of peasants who refuse to cooperate with the Viet Cong.

I'm grateful that, as a people, we have the conscience which motivates us to protect the weak and become involved in the problems of tyrannized people such as the South Vietnamese.

I'm thankful for the men who fight the war. They know the issues: they see every day the realities of life which necessitate that war. They mend the wounds of the natives who are caught in the middle of battle. They care for the children who have been orphaned by Viet Cong terrorism. They try to provide security for the people so that their crops will not be confiscated by the Communists.

As I watched several ambulance buses full of wounded being transferred to aircraft for evacuation to hospitals stateside, my heart filled with gratitude for these men and their brothers still in the jungles and for the altruistic purposes which placed them there.

As the vast contrasts between American society and the cultures of the nations I visited were impressed on me so vividly, the question kept recurring - why?

Why is America the country with a social conscience?

Why does America take upon herself alone the protection of the wake of the world, the feeding of the malnourished children of Asia, the education of the illiterate, the healing of the tubercular, the uplifting of the downtrodden?

Historically, there can be but one answer - the impact on our society of the One who said He came to proclaim "good news to the poor... release to the captives, recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberity those who are oppressed, to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord." (Luke 4:18,19)

More than anything else, I am grateful for the transformation of my life which Jesus Christ has effected and for the fruit which has been borne in our culture because of His influence. For whatever is right in America I express gratitude because He produced it.

Whatever is wrong in America does not cause me despair because I believe He can correct it.

On this Day of Thanksgiving let us face the realities of life and express to the One who created us our needs and our gratitude.

Editorial

Mounting crisis

In the Nov. 8 issue The Campbell Press, published the entire speech of Dr. John Gilbaugh, professor of education at San Jose State College and former dean of the college.

In the speech, Dr. Gilbaugh made some serious charges about waste existing in the California higher educational system. He maintained that instead of continiously raising taxes to accomodate the spiraling costs, increased efficiency through careful planning and utilization of human resources should be the approach to use.

He had much to say about increasing the course load of regular college faculty staff members. He was also especially critical of the internal management of the colleges.

In the Nov. 15 issue of The Campbell Press, Emerson M. (Doc), Arends, president of the Campbell Union High School board of trustees and a member for 14 years and also a member of the San Jose State College Advisory Board, took issue with Dr. Gilbaugh and presented a rebuttal.

In this issue, two more San Jose State College professors enter the fray through letters to the editor.

One criticizes Arends and claims that the "rebuttal" failed.

The other commends Arends and maintains that he "hit-the-nail-on-the-head".

Letters to the Editor

Arends hits nail right-on-head

Dear Sir:

Mr. Arends' reply to ex-Dean Gilbaugh's statements in the Campbell Press hits the nail right on the head. Arends "detects more sour grapes in Gilbaugh's approach to the problems besetting California Higher Education than a deep-seated desire to cure the ills of the patient.

I for one am fed up with what I consider a personal vendetta against the new president of San Jose State College, carried to the public by a man who, I think, described his own case, inadvertently, (Campbell Press, Nov. 8): "When administrators failed to perform adequately and effectively, they were removed from office.

Arends fails to answer charges

Editor, The Campbell Press
Sir:

Mr. Emerson Arends, in his Nov. 15 "refutation" (see The Campbell Press) of Dr. John W. Gilbaugh's article of Nov. 8 (same paper) holds that "sour grapes" are what account for the latter's criticisms of San Jose State College and other colleges in the California system.

But such a way of answering Dr. Gilbaugh's views obviously constitutes no rebuttal whatsoever, and one is surprised to find that a man on the San Jose State College Advisory Board could suppose that it was.

Indeed, at no place in his aritcle does Mr. Arends answer Dr. Gilbaugh. He merely says that "the crisis we face is not that described by Gilbaugh." The crisis, according to Mr. Arends, is that the colleges in California have slipped competively with the result that "we not only cannot entice adequate faculty to to this great system but are losing faculty to colleges outside our system."

Mr. Arends then cites a lot of statistics that are supposed to prove his thesis to be true. But his thesis is essentially the propaganda that faculty members want disseminated among the general public.

Mr. Arend's thesis as to what the real crisis is stands as untenable for at least two reasons. 1) His statement of the crisis is altogether too general. There are a great many departments in which there is no great problem of hiring competent staff members. It is only in some departments that it would be difficult to obtain competent staff. 2) The 1500 faculty vacancies that went unfilled last year, about which Mr. Arends writes, have a different causation than he supposes.

These vacancies went largely unfilled because of administrative ineptness and not because of a poor competitive position. Department heads were directed by their administrative superiors not to hire staff at precisely the time when they were available; they were later directed to hire them at precisely the time when they were not available, namely, late in the second semester. The powers that be on the upper levels of the college and system administrations may have had their reasons for such stupidity, but stupidity it was.

The fact of the matter is that the State College System and, for that matter, San Jose State College, are poorly adminstered. There are all sorts of waste within San Jose State. For example, a member of my department gets ½ salary for teaching 20 students, six in one class and 14 in another.

A reasonable number for her would be 80 students, not 20. In fact, by a simple administrative move, these 20 students could have been placed in other sections in the same department and the ½ salary could have been saved for the taxpayers.

There is so much waste and incompetent administration in San Jose State College that the President, Dr. Clark, might well appoint profitably another Ombudsman. He has one for racial discrimination. I recommend through your newspaper that he appoint a second, namely, an Ombudsman on Waste, Administrative Ineptness and Professional Irresponsibility.

Dr. Gilbaugh is on the right track and he deserves a hearing and not the ad hominum argument that Mr. Arends brings against him. "Sour grapes!"--sour grapes, my foot!

IN MANY COMMUNITIES there has been considerable criticism aroused over Christmas decorations being put in place on the streets prior to Thanksgiving, traditionally the kickoff time for getting into the Yule spirit.

One community that we know of had its Christmas street decorations up two weeks before Thanksgiving.

Many the citizens, as well as business people, were upset about it, claiming that this was jumping the season way too much.

It seems the firm that had the contract for putting up, taking down and storing the decorations, had time-table and deadline troubles. In order to take care of the contracts they had with the various cities, which specified the decorations had to be in place by Thanksgiving, the installations had to start early to meet the deadline.

The firm apparently figured that they would catch less guff, if they put'em up early than if they missed the deadline.

CAMPBELL, fortunately or unfortunately, has been free for a number of years from the troublesome problem of WHEN the Christmas street decorations go up.

But the big problem here is the HOW and WHERE.

When Campbell Ave. was the center of business activity of the community, merchants on the street would chip in with Chamber of Commerce to finance the decorations which, incidentally, are never cheap.

There is no better evidence of the not-so-subtle transformation that has taken place on Campbell Ave. during recent years than is illustrated by the futile and abortive attempts made to raise money for decorations on Campbell Ave.

SHOULD THE CITY take taxpayers' money that is derived from all the city to benefit all the city and gaily festoon Campbell Ave. during the Christmas season?

Or should the Chamber of Commerce assess its members from shopping centers in the "fringes", from firms in the industrial parks, and from professional people in all areas, to get the Campbell Ave. decorated when they have their areas to consider.

It was reported recently that just one market in just one of the "fringe" centers does more retail business than all the retail stores now located on Campbell Ave., so it can't be justified for "business" reasons.

The business places thus that remain on the street obviously cannot afford to bear the entire cost of street decorations.

We concede along with most of you that it would be nice to have the entrance-way (Campbell Ave.) to our city festooned with a Yuletide decor.

But, then, where is the dough to come from?

You take it from there.

We've been around the loop once.

MORE ABOUT "Big slide"

nall PTA, claimed the slide would complicate already serious traffic problems that exist on the street. That it would be an "eye-sore" and an "attractive nuisance involving the need for more policing.

Speaking against the facility also at the meeting were other members of the PTA and residents in the general area, who claimed that the slide would be unattractive and undesirable to the community.

Foster, in his turn at bat, refuted all the points of the objectors and asserted also that the Kirkwood Plaza merchants favored the installation.

He conceded that the "big slide" could be a fad but that only a one-year use of the property was requested. He said that is other areas where similar installations had been placed, resident, shoppers, and merchants felt that it was an asset.

In less than a year, he pointed out, the slides in existence have increased from one to 30 and that the insurance rates have been cut in half because the few accidents that have occurred.

He argued also that the slides do not seem to attract the wild groups of youngsters, and are particularly popular with the 8-14 age group.

Before voting unanimously to deny the request, the commissioners took turns commending both the pros and cons for their presentations in the case.

Chairman Jack Healey said he was particularly impressed by the firm's arguments, but felt that the Kirkwood Center was not the place for it.

He wondered if near the drive-in theater would not be a better spot.

Other commissioners indicated similar feelings.

Merrill Grim said he knew his own kids would enjoy it but it should be in a special "playland" like Santa Cruz.

Frank Klein emphasized that imposing such a facility in that location would be unfair to the neighborhood and felt that there were other locations in the area more desirable.

"Maybe it should go in the downtown core," he added semi-facitiously, "Everyone seems to be looking for an attraction for that location."

Thayer Lyons said he felt it was a fad but it also was a clever promotion, but the Kirkwood Plaza was not the place for it.

Dean Chamberlin said he was impressed by both sides in the case but that the opposition, in his opinion, had the edge.

Ed Pack felt that the disadvantages outweighed the advantages because of the noise problems and increased traffic it would cause and because of the unattractiveness of the structure.

Kel Young said, in his opinion, the structure was so unattractive in its appearance that it would be detrimental to the area.

After making their comments, the commission unanimously denied the application on the motion by Lyons, seconded by Pack.

Representatives of the slide company did not indicate they would appeal the planning commission's ruling to the City Council. They have 10 days in which to file such an appeal, Dick Hogan, planning director, informed them

Homecoming queens to reign

Schools select their loveliest

Half-time entertainment during the "Turkey Day" football games at district high schools in addition to the marching bands and the drill teams will include the crowning of "Homecoming Queens." The girls selected are all seniors and have taken an active part in extra-curricular activities at their respective high schools. In some cases the announcement of the "Queen" will be a surprise to the student body, for the results of the elections will not be made known until the game.

Each of the girls, in addition to their beauty, are also good students. The top runners-up will be in the Queen's entourage as Princesses.

Hopefully the sun will shine and if past crowds are any indication, there will be standing room only at all seven high schools in the district. All games begin at 11 a.m.

Westmont High

WHICH ONE WILL IT BE? One of these lovely young ladies will be crowned Westmont High School's Homecoming Queen at their annual "Turkey Day" game with Leigh High tomorrow. Campbell Bucs win league crown

With a convincing 27-7 victory over the Blackford Braves last Friday, the undefeated Campbell High football team clinched the West Valley Athletic League championship.

The highly touted Brave defense had allowed just 28 points in its six previous league games. But the Buc defense (33 points in six games) was the "standout" performance Friday.

The Braves ended the game with minus yards rushing against the likes of Jim von Herrmann, defensive end, Bill Hiney, Dain Hines and Don Womack in the middle, and linebackers, Dick Perry and Derrel Ball. This crew of wreckers set up all four of the Buc touchdowns by forcing Brave quarterback Tim Flood to fumble and lose the ball five times.

Almost every Brave play saw their backfield flooded with the blue shirts of the Bucs. The only Blackford score came against the Campbell reserves late in the game with the score 27-0.

The Braves defense did salvage a small bit of glory by holding Chuck Hawthorne, Buc halfback, to less than 100 yards gained for the first time this season.

By their impressive win, Campbell reasserted their claim to a ranking in the top 20 of the NorCal division prep football ratings.

In other games in the WVAL, Del Mar squeaked by Saratoga 20-19, Los Gatos, Campbell's final opponent, beat Branham 32-13, and Camden overpowered Westmont 25-7. There is a three way tie for second in the WVAL among Del Mar, Saratoga and Blackford, all with records of 5-2.

Over the years

Campbell and Los Gatos high schools have battled on the gridiron since 1934. Los Gatos holds the edge in total wins with 18 while Campbell has won 14.

There has been one tie (0 to 0 in 1943) in the series during the 33 years.

season. Thus wins for Camden and Saratoga on Thursday would put three teams tied for the second spot in the league.

But despite the rivalry that is being built up on increasing scale between such schools as Camden and Del Mar for the Turkey Day traditional, the Los Gatos-Campbell encounter still must remain the "grandaddy" of the Thanksgiving battles.

After all, that rivalry was existence long before the other schools were even on the drafting board. Campbell and Los Gatos had been playing each other for more than 20 years before Camden, for example, the first of the new schools was even opened.

Only one of the present Campbell Union High School District seven schools is not booked for a league game on Thanksgiving Day. Branham, which opened last fall, has no opponent.

But next year the district's newest school, Prospect, is slated to open, so a new "tradition" could start then.

Building plans, sign concern city planners

Although action on the "big slide" highlighted the Planning Commission meeting Monday night (see separate story), the commissioners faced other troublesome planning problems during the evening which caused them considerable concern.

They approved quite routinely three applications: (1) a canopy for the rear of the building owned by Bob Raffanti at 260 E. Campbell Ave; (2) a wholesale nursery (but not retail) for Abraham van Kalvern at 1536 More Ave., off Pollard and (3) an industrial building for Cameo Development Co., at 545 Westchester Drive, near the drive-in theater.

But three other applications for plan approval gave them more trouble.

For example, the architectural approval committee reported dissatisfaction in the plans submitted by Lelia Deni for the proposed Goodwill Industries building at San Tomas Aquino Road, near Campbell Ave.

Commissioner Merrill Grim, "S" committee chairman, explained that the plans had been modified from ones used for the Milpitas operation which has been previously viewed by the commissioners.

Grim said the applicant had agreed, however to resubmit plans based on that, the commission, then disapproved the plans before them, to clear the decks for the resubmission.

Grim also said that the applicant for approval of an industrial building at 423 Salmar Ave., the Devlon Corp. had agreed to modifications suggested. On that condition the commission then approved the plans.

After considerable discussion, the planners turned down the request for another pole sign for the samll shopping center at Bascom and Apricot. The sign was desired for the new "Mr. Steak" restaurant.

The commissioners felt that a better sign that the sterotyped one requested was needed for the attractive building. They directed Dick Hogan, planning director, to work with the applicant in this respect.

two other stations; $145,000 for streets, including $25,000 for the Rincon Ave. overpass and the balance for traffic signals and other street improvements; $130,000 for city administration-police building, for land acquisition and architect fees and $110,000 for library also for land acquisition and fees.

Should it be more feasible to offer the larger amount in bonds, Stpehens is suggesting that $120,000 be added to the street projects and $30,000 more to both the city hall and library projects to be expended for land clearance.

If the recommendation of the city manager is approved by the council, construction could be started on the fire stations in 1968.

It is also conceivable that the second sale of bonds in Nov. 1968 could make it possible that the actual building of the library and city hall be started in 1969.

Allied with the fire station project is the notice received by the city that the rent will be raised for the residence on Sunnyoaks used as a fire station for six years. Lou Colla owner of the house, is asking for $225 per month. The present rent is $200. Fire station No. 2 will eliminate the need for the residence.

The council on Monday is also expected to act on the request by the Campbell Garden Club that the City of Campbell be approved as a bird sanctuary.

Bids are also scheduled to be opened next Monday for the long-awaited Local Improvement District No. 11 (off Campbell Ave. and Union).

Kenneth Hickman, public works superintendent, is also slated to receive a safety award next Monday for the accident-free record of the field department of public works

Camden Capers

By Gayle Piech

Chosen to reign over this year's big Turkey Game with Del Mar, will be Camden's new Homecoming Queen Bonnie Grant. Bonnie, a very attractive brunette, is always active in school activities and busy as head song girl. A smiling and friendly Scottish lass, Bonnie was also chosen as September's senior of the month.

Princesses Chris Gearin, Debbie Harms, and Lee Ann Ditson will also reign at tomorrow's game at Del Mar High, starting at 11:00 a.m.

Crowning of Camden's Queen, and Del Mar's Queen will only be some of the Turkey Game's halftime show.

INTERVIEWS

Five Camden students were recently interviewed for a chance to live abroad as an A.S.B. Foreign Exchange Student.

Cheryl Aho, Lou Franson, Pam McKay, Liz Walker, and Armando Yanez were interviewed by members of Camen's faculty. Then several foreign exchange students, including Camden's John Karaguirwa helped District officials interview the students.

This information coupled with home interviews was forwarded to the American Field Service offices in New York.

The chosen foreign student will live with a family and act as an ambassador abroad.

SPORTS NEWS

Dr. Thomas Tutee, a psychology professor at San Jose State, who has tested and questioned professional athletes to find out what makes an athlete, will be the featured speaker at "Sports Recognition Night", on November 29 at 7:30 p.m. in the Camden cafetorium.

Coaches and athletes who participated in fall sports will be honored. Varsity football Coach Robert Gatiss, frosh-soph football Coaches Frank Dunbar and Charles Platt, cross country Coach Robert Woods, and C and D Coaches Bill Yonge and Tim Rostege will be individually awarded. They will also go over the past season of their teams.

Master of Ceremonies for this event will be Mr. Guy Troedson. Coffee and dessert will be served to the expected 350 people.

COUGARS WIN

Winning their third league game of the season, the Camden Cougars trounced the Westmont Warriors 20 to 7 on the winners field.

Camden lead the entire game having little difficulty with the Westmont defense. Westmont had their troubles however, having four passes picked off by the Cougar secondary.

With the score 13-0 at the half, the Cougars came out for the second half with a substantial lead. Westmont had other ideas though and scored midway through the third period.

No one scored for the remainder of the third period, and up until the last moment it seemed as though the Warriors could pull out their first victory. Camden however put the frosting on the cake when Rusty Thompson took a quarterback sneak for ten yards and the final six points of the afternoon. On another sneak, Rusty tallied the final Cougar point, leaving the score, Camden 20, Westmont 7.

Friday a short rally was held at 2:00. Westmont students have great spirit despite the losses of our Varsity Team. Our Varsity was defeated by the Cougars 20-7.

Our next and last game will be Thursday against Leigh at Westmont. The Thanksgiving Game is a long-awaited event by all the students. Our Homecoming Queen will be announced and crowned during half-time. Both teams have had a defeated season, so this game should prove interesting. Kick-off time will be at 11:00 a.m.

Friday night the Yearbook Staff sponsored a dance, which was enjoyed by all. The bands featured were the "Mourning Reign" and the "Jeason Steel Band."

This Saturday Teen Club is having a dance and everybody is urged to come.

Reigning over Del Mar's 1967 Homecoming will be Queen Angela Bell. Her princesses are Jennifer Kravich and Karen Crawford. The Homecoming Dance will be held from 8:00 to 11:00 p.m. tonight (Nov. 22) and the Lords of Eden will be playing.

Following tradition, Del Mar will play the Camden Cougars on Thanksgiving Day at 11 a.m.-this year on Del Mar's field. Last year was the first time in seven years that Del Mar beat Camden-and we intend to beat again!

DONS CLIP FALCONS

Last Friday night the Dons captured their fourth straight victory as they went on to beat the Saratoga Falcons 20 to 19 in Del Mar's last night game of the season, played on Los Gatos' field. By winning this game, our great team broke Del Mar's pre-four wins and two losses. Del Mar is now tied for second place with Blackford in the League.

FROSH-SOPH CONQUER FALCONS

The Frosh-Soph team, under the coaching of Ernest Piunti, won their second game of the season by defeating Saratoga 13 to 6. They played Camden today (November 22) at 3:00 on Camden's field.

Today all Del Mar Seniors will be given the Constitution test, the passage of which is required for graduation. Good Luck, Seniors!

Last year's Juniors, the Class of 1968, broke the school's Junior Magazine Sales record, but the Class of 1969 has gone on to break even that record by selling over $6,000 worth of subscriptions. Good work, Juniors.

To promote extra spirit for last week's game, the Cheerleaders and Song girls "papered" all the football players' houses Thursday night. When the players awoke Friday morning they found victory posters all over their yards.

The Frosh-Soph team also defeated the Blackford team with a score of 34-13. Touchdowns were made by Ed Guerra, Dan Hanks, and Bill McCall. Also a safety was made by Pete Dardenelli.

The Seniors presented their annual Senior Play last Thursday and Friday nights in the auditorium at 8:00 p.m. In "You Can't Take It With You", Jean Dirsharme, Chuck Mork, and John Brydon played the major roles. The profits will go to the upcoming senior activities such as the annual Sneak Day and the Senior Ball. The play was a great success.

Thanksgiving will be celebrated tommorrow with the 34th annual Los Gatos vs. Campbell football game. The Homecoming Queen will be presented to the Student Body on the Wildcats field beginning at 11 a.m. A big crowd is anticipated. The Buccaneers are hoping for one more victory to make an undefeated season.

Blackford lost a vital game last Friday to Campbell, 27 to 7. Our next game will be played with Saratoga High on Thanksgiving day at Blackford. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Five Blackford seniors--more than any in the CUHS District--ranked high in scholarship this year as they were named National Merit Semifinalists. Four of the students are Dan Andrews, June Fields, John Rhodes, and Michaila Tierney. Another student, Brian Bullock, also received the honor, but he has moved to Australia.

A full calendar of events is being planned by members of Blackford's Latin Club, beginning with an ice-skating party, Nov. 21.

Heads of the Latin Club this year are officers Robin Gilligan and Roxanne Judge, who are president and vice-president, respectively. Mrs. Louise Chew is the faculty advisor.

St. Lucy's tied in "A" league

St. Lucy's B Football team comprised of sixth and seventh grade boys defeated St. Christopher's of San Jose last Tuesday with a score of 31 to 6. St. Lucy's A team was not so fortunate, however, as they lost their game, 39 to 19. The A team consists of eighth grade boys. St. Lucy's and St. Christophers A teams are tied for first place in the Western A League of Catholic Grammer Schools.

St. Lucy's teams will meet St. Joseph's at the Willow Street Park, San Jose, on Wednesday, Nov. 22; St. John's at Capital Park, San Jose, on Thursday, Nov. 30 and St. Mary's at Butcher Park, San Jose, on Dec. 7.

Campbell students test their physical fitness

By Sally Howe

Competition is always keen in the sportsminded, but Campbell students in grades four to eight, have some tough competition these days--themselves!

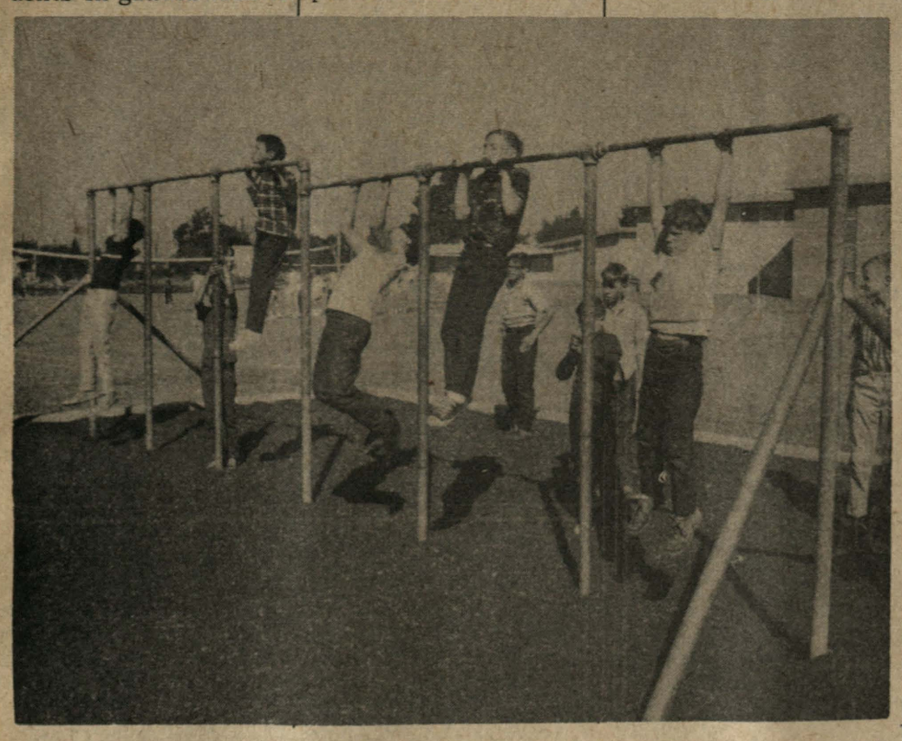
The students are currently taking physical performance tests, rated according to their age. In the spring, they'll again take the tests and see how much improvement they have made during the year.

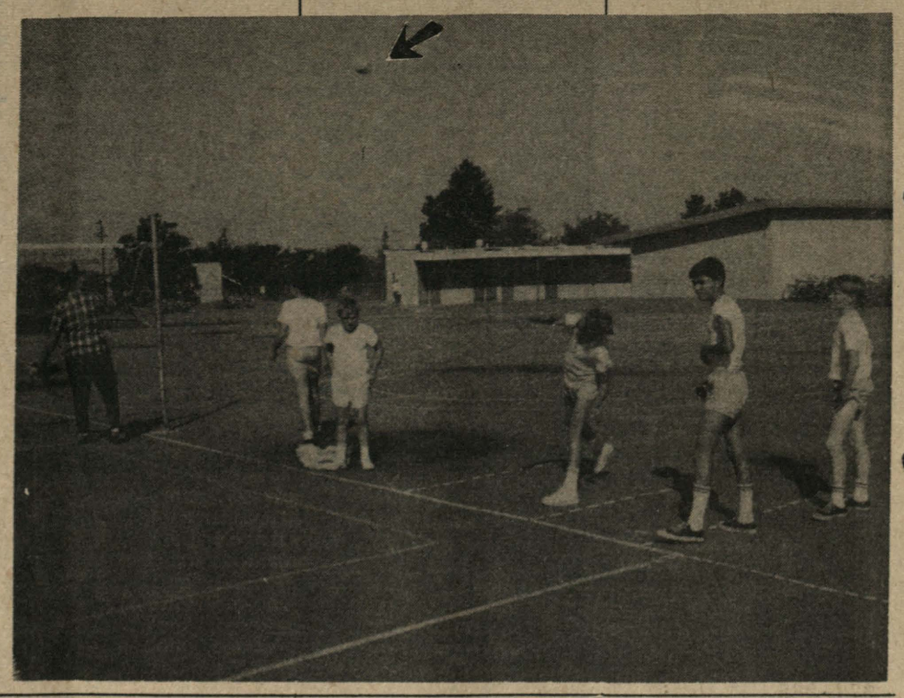
The program has been used throughout the district for many years, but two years ago the State made testing in grades five and eight mandatory, setting up performance scales so each student will know how he rates against his peers.

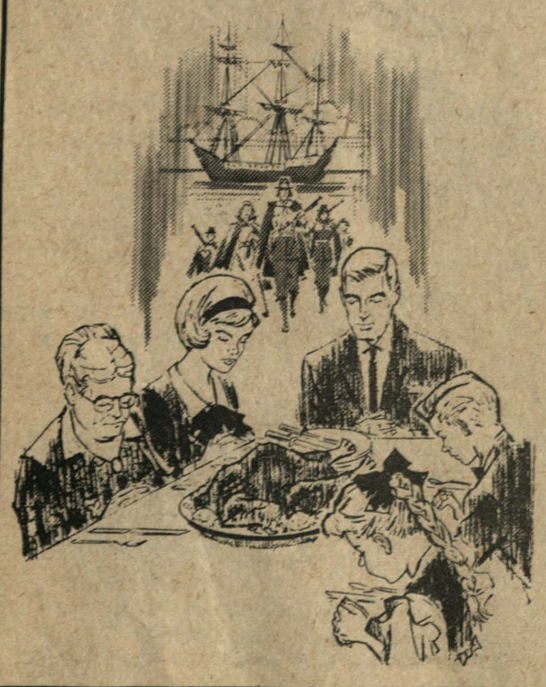
Campbell School gym instructors John Tierney, Lois Hoyt, Barbara Davis, Pete Keeslar, Don Bryant and Jean Molnar have been engaged in daily testing of 50 yard dash, 600 yard walk-run, sit-ups, pull ups, standing broad jump and softball throws each designed to show performance of certain bodyactions in seventh and eighth graders.

Intermediate grade youngsters are tested by their classroom teachers, aided by Ken Osborne, a sixth grade instructor.

Photos show girls competing in 50 yard dash, practicing push-ups, and boys throwing a softball, preparing for the 600 yard run, and pulling themselves up on the bars.







Letters to the Editor

BIG SLIDE

Dear Editor:

Your front page article sort of wears the bright off the day. It is a terrible thing to turn our shopping centers into gaudy carnivals. This type of thing will only attract those long haired people, and drive decent God fearing people away.

From reading your paper I've noticed that the Planning Commission turns these undesirable things down, but the City Council always undoes their good work. The business-minded City Council is always open to big people like pool hall owners, but never to just plain folk.

I have seen this lot by the Mayfair grocery, and know it is already littered with messy blue papers from the corner gas station. Putting that ugly roller coaster there will add insult to injury.

Thanksgiviving can be plentiful but low in calories

"Eat, drink and be merry---" may still be good advice for the holiday occasion times, but the Santa Clara County Heart Association thinks that there should be some cautions about the "eating", according to Morely Lertzman, M.D., Chairman of the Association's Nutrition Committee.

The Heart Associations' ideas about what kinds of foods are good for our families does not detract from the pleasures of festive occasions. Dr. Lertzman indicates that studies have shown that with the correct selection of foods and menus our families can still enjoy their "repast" but it can be a lot healthier one. Lertzman urges wise consideration of the types of food we use in planning our holiday menus.

Mrs. Pat Stephensen, the Nutrition Consultant for the Heart Association, suggests the following menu for use in commemorating Thanksgiving Day:

Roast Turkey; Giblet Gravy & Cranberry Sauce; Dressing & Mashed Potatoes; Green Beans with Mushrooms; Relish Tray of celery hearts, radishes, carrot curls and pickles; Pumpkin Chiffon Pie with Special Topping.

A holiday meal can be both plentiful and yet moderate in calories. By following special tips you can cut 600 calories away from the usual 1300-1500 calorie Thanksgiving meal.

Although calories are the same for butter, margarine, shortening and oil (40-45 per teaspoon) you can decrease saturated fat and increase polyunsaturated oil by substituting corn and safflower oil and a soft "tub" margarine.

Turkey meat, both white and dark, is low in calories and saturated fat. Use your favorite turkey roasting method but substitute soft margarine for butter. When the bird is roasted, pour off the drippings for gravy. Remove all fat with turkey baster or by chilling with ice cubes. It's the fat that gives gravy almost all its calories. Then season and thicken according to your family's taste.

Low calorie cranberry sauce is delicious and contains only a few calories per tablespoon.

Frozen green beans with mushrooms is colorful and low calorie. Omit margarine seasoning for further saving. Your favorite cole slaw recipe made with low calorie mayonnaise is an excellent choice for salad. Relishes add crunch without calories.

You may wish to serve either dressing or hot rolls. A serving of either one adds at least 200 calories.

College board modifies plans to allow for educational TV

West Valley College Trustees last week authorized the school's architects to proceed with changes in the plans of the engineering-technology building now under construction on the Saratoga campus so that the college could house the facilities of KTEH-TV, the educational station operated by the Santa Clara County Office of Education.

The offer of facilities, however, is contingent upon the granting of federal funds to KTEH-TV under the Public Broadcasting Act of 1967, signed recently. The station has applied for close to $500,000 for equipment and personnel.

Should the application be approved and should KTEH-TV accept West Valley's offer, the school would spend up to $10,000 to make the necessary architectural alterations to house the station in facilities that were to be used by future technical programs.

Dr. Wallace W. Hall, West Valley president, told the Board his office recommended the offer because the technical programs planned would not be started for several years after the Saratoga campus opens in fall, 1968.

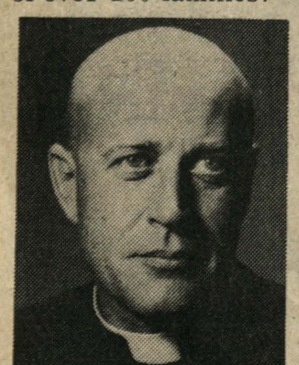
He also thought the additional expenditure was justified because of the educational advantages accuring to West Valley students--advanced engineering students would be trained in such fields as script writing, and TV sound, lighting, camera operation and directing.

The facilities would also be used by the school's Office of Community Services to augment its public affairs program-including televised press conferences and round table discussions.

After remaining in the engineering-technology building for perhaps four or five years, KTEH-TV would move to new facilities in the West Valley library complex.

Rev. Carson to be reassigned

The Rev. A.D. (Kit) Carson, Vicar of St. Lawrence Episcopal Church, Campbell, is to be reassigned to another post by the Rt. Rev. C. Kilmer Myers, Episcopal Bishop of California, effective Dec. 1. Fr. Carson, who assumed his present position as the first Vicar of the first and only Episcopal Church in Campbell in May 1964, has been known in the area as an activist in the area of Civil rights and ecumenical relations. The Mission of St. Lawrence has, under his leadership, grown from it's original number of 25 families to it's present strength of over 100 families.



REV CARSON

Fr. Carson was a member of the Campbell Rotary; Executive Board, Santa Clara Council of Churches; Advisory Board, Economics Opportunity Commission, and Department of Medicine and Religion, Santa Clara County Medical Society.

Fr. Carson's future assignment will be through the Diocese of California.

Conn was the husband of Sandra Conn, 1699 Silacci Dr., Campbell, and father of Denise and Kimberly Conn. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Conn, 1172 Lovell Ave., Campbell. He was a native of Boston, Massachusetts.

Funeral services were conducted at Campbell Memorial Chapel with the Rev. Paul Lewis officiating. Burial was in Los Gatos Memorial Park.

IN CONCERT--Charles Aznavour, one of France's most popular entertainers, will appear in concert Nov. 28, in the West Valley College auditorium as part of the school's Community Services Program. Linda Patterson says vows with Larry Lewis

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Lee Lewis are making their first home in Campbell following their recent marriage at the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepard in San Jose. The bride is the former Linda Sue Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel V. Patterson of San Jose. Her bridegroom is also of San Jose.

For her wedding, the blonde bride chose a white satin peau de soie A-line gown, featuring an empire waistline with lace appliques on the bodice, sleeves and shirt. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis, carnations and baby roses edged with lace. Her headpiece was a lace applique of petals from which fell her bouffant shoulder length veil.

Linda chose her sister, Mrs. Charles Jackson as her matron of honor and Miss Carol Roth as the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Louis Practico, Mrs. Rey Cuevas, Mrs. Robert Rowe, and Miss Loretto MacDonnell. The bridal attendants were dressed alike in floor length gowns styled with burnt orange velvet bodices and eggshell colored crepe skirts. They carried burnt orange mums surrounded by croten leaves. Joseph Lewis served his brother as best man. Little Jo Buderos was the dainty flower girl and Wayne Patterson and John Lewis served as candlelighters.

Following the nuptials there was a reception at the Lions Clubhouse in San Jose. Dinner and dancing was enjoyed by 300 guests. The happy couple cut a four tiered wedding cake which was the center of the bride's table.

The newlyweds traveled to Apple Valley and Las Vegas, Nevada for their honeymoon and are now at home in Campbell.

The new Mrs. Lewis is a graduate of Blackford High School and West Valley College and is employed at the Campbell branch of Bank of America.

Larry is a graduate of Hiram Johnson High School, Sacramento, and is a graduate of San Jose City College and San Jose State College. He is employed at J.C. Penney Co. in Mountain View.

CAP Squadron 114 has open house

Civil Air Patrol Squadron 114 held open house Monday night, Nov. 20, at the Campbell Church of Christ, 1075 W. Campbell Ave. The program included talks by Capt. Don Burnham, Senior unit commander, Cadet Wayne Mathewson, 15; Sgt. Sherry Bensler, 16; and Cadet Commander, Tom Hightower, 17.

Highlight of the evening was a film "Sixty years of Aviation in Santa Clara County" presented by Richard Nieman, and the scale model replica of the "aeroplane" displayed by R. Campi.

Special guest was Rev. Arthur Spearman, S. J., Santa Clara University archivist and author of "John Joseph Montgomery, Father of Basic Flying" who spoke briefly on his book. Refreshments were served following the program.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE
SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

Q. - I have medical insurance under social security. I have been a diabetic for many years. My doctor insists that I visit his office every other week.

At this time he checks my heart and blood pressure. He charges $5.00 for each visit. Are these office calls covered by my medical insurance?

A. - Yes, indeed. Recurring treatment and examinations for an injury or an illness by your doctor is covered by your medical insurance.

Routine physicals not for a specific illness or injury are excluded from your medical insurance coverage.

Q. - My mother has medical insurance under social security. She also has a private insurance plan which pays her an amount equal to all her medical expenses. She has had surgery for which the doctor is charging $850. How much of this will the medical insurance pay?

A. - Assuming this $850 is her total medical expense, you can expect Medicare to pay $640. Medicare will pay 80 percent ($4 of every $5) of the reasonable charges for all covered services in the year, except the first $50.

She should file her claim with her private insurance company to receive any amounts she may be entitled to receive from them under the terms of her policy. She should file her Medicare claim at her Social Security Office.

Q. - I have medical insurance under social security. I go to my doctor once a year for a general physical checkup. The examination and various tests he gives me cost $50. How do I claim reimbursement for the costs of this physical?

A. - Routine physical, dental care, and prescription drugs are among the items that are excluded from coverage under medical insurance.

Therefore, there would be no reimbursement from Medicare for this type of medical treatment.

Q. - I have a heart condition and have been buying over $30 worth of prescription drugs a month from my druggist. My doctor tells me I will have to take this prescription indefinitely, perhaps the rest of my life.

Will my medical insurance pay these "drug" cost?

A. - No. There is no provision in the medical insurance coverage to pay the cost of prescription drugs.

Q. - I have had my eyes checked and find that I need glasses. Will Medicare reimburse me for the cost of the examination and the glasses?

A. - No. Routine eye examination and glasses are not included under the medical insurance coverage.

However, if glasses are necessary because of an injury to the eyes, the cost of examinations treatment, and the glasses would be covered by medical insurance.
